

Trenching & Excavation Competent Person Training

A seminar for all field personnel, management personnel, safety directors, and owners

Presented by: Jared Weber or Jennifer Tobin, ABC of WI Safety Managers

Trenching & Excavating is one of the most dangerous operations in construction. Statistics have shown the fatality rate for excavation work is 112% higher than the rate for general construction and it is an area of focus during OSHA inspections. To ensure our members are safe and meet the requirements of Subpart P, ABC WI is offering a Competent Person Training Course. The competent person must have specific training in, and be knowledgeable about, soil analysis, the use of protective systems, and the requirements of OSHA Subpart P.

This program helps contractors train the competent person and workers. Although the responsibility for designating a competent person is the sole responsibility of the contractor, this program is designed to simplify the task by providing participants with the information and training needed to become a competent person.

The program covers:

- The scope and application of Subpart P — Excavation Standard
- Definitions
- General requirements
- Requirements for protective systems
- Soil classifications
- Handling an OSHA inspection
